BOOK FARE AT PLACE BONAVENTURE

The annual Salon du Livre will be held at Place Bonaventure from November 15-20. Last year over 96,000 books were available. This is a major event for Québec book publishers; for many it is the only chance to show the public their offerings for the holiday season. Many international publishing houses will be exhibiting; all major Canadian publishing houses will be represented.

RAGING GRANNIES PROTEST JOE CLARKE

The Raging Grannies held a protest demonstration against External Affairs Minister Joe Clarke's recent statements on Canada's participation in the Gulf Crisis. The Grannies, along with other non-nuclear groups, were upset with Clarke's statement last week that Canada might act "unilaterally" instead of remaining under a U.N. umbrella support position. The Grannies used the Institute's lounge to meet and organize their protest.
